Subject:

Children's National Medical Center Pediatric App

Children's Hospital has a pediatric app available for the public to access their treatment and reference guide algorithms.

These medical guidelines provided by the app can be used as a reference for DCFEMS health care providers. However, it should be noted that current DCFEMS protocols, which are approved through the Department of Health (DOH), shall always take precedence in providing definitive patient care and modalities.

Phone App

This application for smartphones is a helpful resource as it relates to Advance Cardiac Life Support and Pediatric Advance Life Support algorithms.

Below is the direct link to this smartphone application and there is no cost associated with the use of this download.
